Description

Memorial Hospital is the largest hospital in the Pikes Peak Region. LSC was hired to conduct a traffic impact study for a major expansion to the existing facility located adjacent to the Olympic Training Center on Boulder Avenue. The hospital expansion included construction of two parking structures which would provide a significant increase in the on-site parking facilities.

The project involved LSC communicating extensively with architects, planners, neighborhood organizations, the hospital board, and the City of Colorado Springs to arrive at a configuration that satisfied as many needs as possible. The analysis of the parking structures primarily focused on their impact on traffic volumes and circulation within the hospital grounds. Design of the structures was not included in the study. The resulting parking structures were subsequently approved for construction as part of the overall hospital expansion.
